

WISCONSIN IN THE MOUNTAINS AND ELSEWHERE IN THE COUNTRY

White Mountain Foliage Is as Yet Little Changed

Lateness of Frosts Delays Coat of Many Colors for New England Hills—Golf Continues Popular on Less Crowded Bretton Woods Links.

WHITE MOUNTAINS, N. H., Sept. 16.—THE autumn season in the White Mountains was ushered in last week with a full moon and unprecedented warm weather, making swimming in the outdoor pools possible. There was also the usual round of riding, motoring, moonlight mountain climbing and boating and the inevitable golf and tennis. The hills are beginning to tinge ever so faintly, giving promise of their autumn glory, but the warm weather and lack of frosts are making the change unusually late.

The members of the New Hampshire State Hotel Association have received an invitation from Mr. J. L. Lannin of the Balsams, at Dixville Notch, to hold their annual meeting there on Thursday, September 21. A banquet will be served following the usual business meeting. The New England Hotel Association members have also been invited, and it is expected that the coming winter sports campaign will be widely discussed, with a view to taking necessary steps toward advertising sports in New Hampshire and in promoting winter carnivals, with the cooperation of the Government Forestry Association. Mr. Lannin's hospitality includes members' wives, and a large attendance is expected.

The Mount Washington Railway having established a special excursion rate during the remainder of the month, many are taking advantage of a night on the mountain, returning by the morning train, and enjoying the wonderful distant views from the crown of all New England. The past week end at Bretton Woods was a busy one, with both hotels filled and much informal entertaining. The Cave Grill had many dinners and supper dances on Saturday evening, included among which was a party of young people from the Mountain View at Whitefield, including Messrs. Frank Dodge, E. H. Stratton, Phil Phillips, Miss Isabel Beckurts, Miss Marian Leonard and others, who motored home by moonlight afterward. Many men are arriving here for the golf, which seems more enjoyable in

Hot Springs Has an Increase in Its Colony for Autumn

Dinners and Outings to Welcome Arrivals—Riding, Golf, and Tennis Popular.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 16.—Major T. J. Oakley Rhineland and Mrs. Rhineland have arrived from New York. Major Rhineland is to take the cure. This feature of Hot Springs is in favor at all times of the year. Dr. John McCoy and Mrs. McCoy are here for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Dodge, who returned last week from New York, gave a dinner early in the week for Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, Jr., Miss Mercer Dunlop and Mr. Livingston Fryer, who came in late last week from Buffalo to join his mother, Mrs. Robert Livingston Fryer, and his aunt, Mrs. Daniel Manning, of Albany. Mr. Dodge is again attracting attention on the tennis courts. Mr. and Mrs. Littleton left on Tuesday for New York. Miss Dunlop has gone to New York to visit her mother, Mrs. Archibald McCrea, who was in Alaska during the summer with Mr. McCrea. Mrs. James McCrea, and Mrs. McCrea, has been at the Hotelstead.

Mrs. W. Hayward Drayton of New York gave a dinner early in the week, guests including Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Huhn, Jr., of New York. Mrs. Loening of New York gave a luncheon for her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Loening, of Princeton. Mrs. Rudolph Loening was Miss Gertrude Gilbert of Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Denman Clark recently entertained six of her young friends at dinner followed by dancing. Mrs. Saxe left Wednesday for New York. Mr. and Mrs. John Milburn of New York gave a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols of Philadelphia. Mrs. Robert Livingston Fryer of Buffalo, Justice James Clark McReynolds and Mr. Edward W. Sheldon of New York.

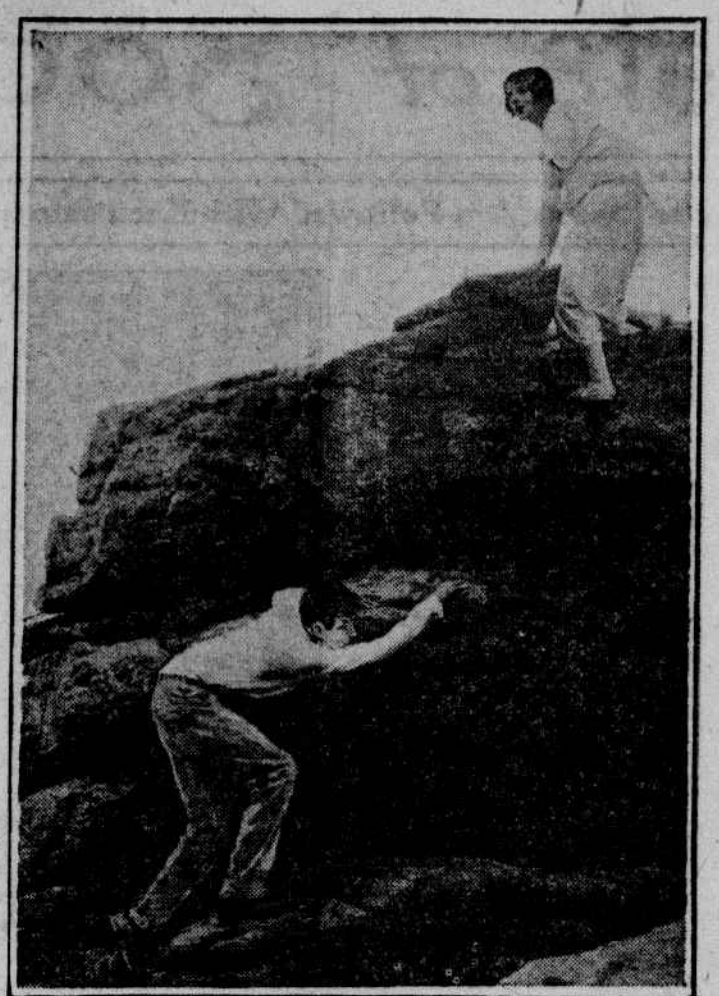

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Boyd of Philadelphia were dinner guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Boiff of New York. Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wallace are here from New York by automobile on their honeymoon. Mrs. Wallace was Miss Rachel Deane, daughter of Mrs. Herman Dierckx of New York. Mrs. Terah Haggin has returned from New York and will be at the White Cottage until October.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls are expected soon from New York, where they have been at the Ritz-Carlton. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Birrell arrived from New York and drove on Tuesday to Fassfern Farm for luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Miller, with Miss Frances J. Miller and Miss Frances McKenna, of New York, went to Fassfern Farm on Wednesday. Col. Jacob M. Peters who came in on Monday from Philadelphia, drove there for dinner on Thursday, as the guest of Major and Mrs. H. A. C. de Ruiter of New York.

Joining the New York colony during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Rogers, also the Messrs. Edwin de T. Bechtel, Dr. Leno Anderson, Henry Dodge Cooper and Dudley Martindale Cooper. The Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of St. Bartholomew's, arrived Wednesday to play golf and take the Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. Also arrived Wednesday and will be joined by Mrs. Bonaparte.

The Philadelphia colony was increased by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. J. Randolph McAllister and Mrs. J. Randolph Pries. Mrs. Ord Preston of Washington and the Misses Eleanor and Mary Ord Preston have arrived from California to join Mr. Preston. Departures of the week include Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Hoyt, Mrs. Mary E. Tomoney and Mr. Pembroke Jones, Jr., of New York. Mr. Albert Ottiger, Assistant United States Attorney-General, has returned to Washington, also Mr. Gardner Coughlin and Mr. J. Frederick Ray.

Want Road From Lake Placid to Summit of Mt. Whiteface

Petitions to Members of Legislature Ask for Toll Route to Top, Which Affords View Over Wide Area—Irrving Batcheller Speaks.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Recent opening of the motor road to the summit of Mount Mansfield in the Green Mountains has given impetus to the movement to build a motor toll road to the summit of Mount Whiteface, and petitions addressed to State Senator Mortimer V. Ferris and Assemblyman Fred L. Porter, urging upon them prompt action in an endeavor to secure the necessary legislation and appropriation, have been generally signed.

Backers of the project call attention to the fact that thus far this season more than 1,400 persons have signed the register at the State fire observation station, and they maintain that at this rate a toll road would soon pay the cost of construction. The proposed road would go up the Wilburton side of the mountain, where the grades are comparatively easy and where there is now a graded road used in lumbering operations extending nearly three of the six miles to the summit. From the top there is a wonderful view on clear days, including seventy-two different bodies of water, among them Lake Champlain and the St. Lawrence. Also in fair weather the spires of Montreal may be seen.

A large sum in aid of the new Adirondack Temple at a house of worship, upon which work is soon to be started here, was raised by Mr. Irving Batcheller, the author, on Wednesday, when he gave a lecture, "The Birth of a Nation," in the village hall. Attendance was stimulated by a ticket sale competition, in which Mr. Batcheller gave to the winner autographed copies of three of his latest novels and to the runner-up one autographed copy. Miss Anna Hamlin, daughter of Mr. George Hamlin the tenor, sang several songs.

Mrs. J. J. Sweeney of New York has this week been receiving the congratulations of her friends among the campers at Whiteface Inn upon her success this season in raising more than $1,000 for the Whiteface Inn tuberculosis fund, which will be applied to the maintenance of a free bed at Sanitarium Gabriels. The amount has been realized through the weekly bridge parties and numerous other social events of the season at the inn.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Warden of Haverford, Pa., have been visiting for a few days with his grandfather, Mr. Calvin Pardeen, at the latter's camp on Lake Placid.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Popper of New York, who are among the campers, are making Lake Placid camp open until October 1.

Mr. A. L. D. Warner, commodore of the Lake Placid Yacht Club, who has been on a motor trip to points in New Hampshire, recently returned, joining Mrs. Warner at camp. They will remain until the first of the month.

The principal event of the week was the annual meeting of the Adirondack Resorts Association at the Stevens House on Wednesday, at which officers, elected for the ensuing year, were: President, Mr. Joseph H. Marvel; treasurer, Mr. Philip E. Rice, and secretary, Mr. George W. Ryan.

At this meeting Mr. A. C. Flanagan of Malone, Mr. L. C. Emerson of Schroon Lake and Mr. Leslie Kincaid, Adjutant-General of the State, were appointed a committee to present to the Legislature a bill calling for the establishment of a public bureau to handle a fund of $1,000,000 for the purpose of advertising the State of New York as is done in the case of the State of California.

Mr. Gregory P. Ryan of New York, a recent arrival at the Stevens House, is accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Arthur P. Caldwell of New York. Others from New York recently registered at the Stevens House are Mr. E. D. Gault, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collet, Mrs. G. P. Puert, Miss Jessie Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tuttle and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Sunders.

Events marking the close of the season at White Face Inn included the bridge and luncheon marking the triple birthday observance in honor of Mrs. William Warner of Pelham, Mrs. Chauncey Griggs of Detroit and Mrs. J. C. Wilson of Philadelphia. Others in the party

Bethlehem and the Nearby Towns Are Remaining Active

Golfers Predominate in Arrivals, But Other Mountain Sports Have Devotees.

BETHLEHEM, N. H., Sept. 16.—Bethlehem, set on its high plateau, looks down on many mountain peaks, and, with its golf links undulating like a Scottish hill course, is the autumn Mecca toward which many golfers set their faces this month. The Bethlehem Golf and Tennis Club restricted its patronage and there is consequently no course congestion.

Bethlehem is still affording relief to many sufferers from hay fever, who come from far and near, and its cottage colony is still nearly intact, although the usual exodus of summer visitors from the hotels has begun.

The Sinclair House remains open until October 1, as do the Hillside and Central, Columbia and Strawberry Hill, Alpine and Highland, Maplehurst, Reynolds, Colby Inn and Turner's Tavern. The Upland Terrace closes September 25 after a successful season. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Derr Biggers and their son, who spent the season there, have returned to New York.

Arrivals at the Sinclair this week from New York and vicinity include Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Board, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Board, Miss Anita Gomez, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Brill, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Brown, Mrs. J. G. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry MacNair, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Phelps, Edgar E. Frank, Dr. R. E. Farmer, Louis Morton, Charles W. Winter and Mrs. Lea Benjamin.

Mrs. R. A. Swiger of New York and Aiken, S. C., is still at Sinclair Lodge and will remain until the hotel closes.

The children of Bethlehem are presenting an operetta, "The Pixie's Triumph," at the Town Hall this week Thursday for the benefit of the Home for the Aged at Woodsville. The cottage colony is lending liberal support, as this is a popular White Mountain charity.

At the Columbia are Miss Adeline V. Bratt of New York, E. M. Hatcher of Woodstock, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. O. Schaals of Hempstead, L. I. At Upland Terrace are E. W. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Katharine Goodman of New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Schuster of New York and Mrs. M. G. Hauser and Mrs. L. P. Coleman of Brooklyn.

At Crawford Notch.

The autumn season at Crawford Notch is more than usually interesting, and many arrivals from New York are noted, while the permanent residents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Troth and many others are here.

Granville E. Dickey of the Crawford House walked away with many of the prizes at the water polo contest, which was held at the Crawford House last Monday, where he went to compete with other well known intercollegiate swimmers.

Mr. Robert Hills ended the fishing season here by catching the record rainbow trout of the season, weighing between two and three pounds, in the Ammonoosuc River.

Frederick Everett Thompson of New York has motored here to spend the remainder of the month with Mrs. Thompson at the Crawford House.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guiterman spent a few days at the Crawford on their tour of the mountains by automobile. James Montague and Richard Montague of New York have joined their family at the Crawford House for the remainder of the month.

Frederick T. East of Brooklyn and Mrs. R. L. Knowles have arrived at the Crawford and will proceed to the North country. Also arriving this week from the season were Mrs. Peritt Dulles and Misses Harriet and Sophie Dulles of Philadelphia, Mrs. J. C. Waldron and W. D. Waldron, from New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Kingman, Mr. and Mrs. George V. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Gravenhorst and Gordon and Everett Gravenhorst of Brooklyn.

Miss Olive Saxton of Norwich, Conn., were at the Crawford, where Mr. and Mrs. T. Gillis Todd arrived this week from the New Hampshire coast for the late season.

Arrivals at Jefferson.

Mrs. Howard Conoley of Boston, formerly of Chicago, is at the Waumbek in Jefferson for her usual stay, and with her are Mrs. Thomas Nickerson and Mr. E. B. Taylor of New York and Master Howard Conoley, Jr., of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dunning and Mr. and Mrs. William F. Giger of Paterson, N. J., are the guests at the Waumbek of Mrs. George B. Dunning, who has spent the entire season there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Norris of New York, who made a short stay at the Mount Washington at Bretton Woods, have come here to join friends and remain until the close of the season.

Mr. E. E. Pollock of New York is the guest here of Mr. Samuel Taylor for a few days and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Littlefield are here from Boston for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hoops and family have arrived here from New York for the balance of the month and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mainell of New York will remain until Sept. 25. It is possible that the Waumbek may remain open until Oct. 1, as many are visiting Jefferson for the last time of the season.

Mr. Thomas E. Greenen of New York has arrived to spend the remainder of the season here with Mrs. Greenen. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Paul have arrived here from Bronxville to spend the month. Also here are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burdett of Scarborough, Me., and Mrs. H. D. Macdonald of Chelmsford, Mass.

Miss Genevieve Fox Wins Place Among Tennis Stars

Although Only Fifteen She Displayed Marked Skill Against Miss Helen Wills.

MISS GENEVIEVE FOX, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lylett Fox of New York and the Southampton summer colony, is one of the shining lights among the younger girls of society who have won laurels in the realm of amateur sport. Although Miss Fox has not thought about making her debut yet, she has written a permanent chapter into the tennis record of lawn tennis. Having shown a genius for the game on dirt and grass courts this season at Southampton, she entered the women's Middle States tennis championship tournament last week on the courts of the Philadelphia Cricket Club. While possessed of abundant confidence in facing the prospect of confronting some of the feminine tennis stars, Miss Fox spoke of her entry as "a joke." In that she did not do justice to herself. There was a large gallery present last Monday when she found herself on the courts facing Miss Helen Wills, the 16-year-old California comet. Miss Fox is only 15 years old, but, like Miss Wills, looks older than her years. It was the first time that she had entered a "big league" tournament. Miss Wills defeated her 6-4, but Miss Fox played a remarkably fine game. She has a strong drive, and shows a general evenness in her game, with a few streaks of wildness that this young left-handed athlete will overcome. She will be heard from in future tennis. Last summer she also proved herself to be one of the best swimmers among the Southampton girls.

Autumn Tourists Arrive in Numbers at Intervale

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. INTERVALE, N. H., Sept. 16.—The Intervale House is welcoming many autumn tourists this week. Prominent among them are Mrs. C. De Palkowski and Miss de Palkowski, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Spahn, and Miss Laura May Spain of Brooklyn, with Miss Agnes Mcweeney of New York, on a motor tour of the hills. The resort attracts many during the season, and the beautiful autumn foliage, and mountain climbing has been enjoyed this week by many sojourners here.

One of the loveliest sights on the East Side is Mrs. Charles H. Dittson's flower garden at Jackson, which has one of the finest collections of perennials in the hills. The flower garden, owned by Mrs. Dittson, is at Chocoma, is also one which tourists motor many miles to see and enjoy.

Mrs. Belle Woodruff, of New York, is spending the autumn season at Gray's Inn, at Jackson.

Dr. and Mrs. David H. Webster and Miss Rosemary Webster motored from New York to spend a few days at President Inn in Conway, where Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ferguson and David O. Webster of New York, arrived for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Diamond, and their family, of New York, arrived this week at the Randall House, North Conway, where Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Squibb and Miss Carolyn R. Squire, arrived from Ossining.

Many bookings are being made for winter sports throughout the East Side route and those hotels opening for the winter season include Gray's Inn, Iron Mountain and Eagle Mountain House, at Jackson; Bellevue, at Intervale; Russell Cottage, at Keegan; Presidential Inn, at Conway; Randall, at North Conway, and possibly the Chocoma Inn at Chocoma.

Autumn Visitors Test New Trails Near Paul Smiths

Wood Roads for Next Season Under Construction—New Golf Course.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Early September sojourners in the St. Regis camps and at Paul Smiths Hotel have found a new delight in exploring the trails through the Paul Smiths preserve of over 30,000 acres, which are now being opened, marked and put in first class condition for another season. Many of the trails are in favor among the horsemen and horsewomen as bridle paths. For the most part they parallel the twenty-three miles of navigable waterways included in the preserve and center, more or less, about the ten lakes which form a part of the St. Regis and Osgood lake system.

Mr. Leverett Emmet, of Garden City, the golf architect, has planned new eighteen hole course of the St. Regis River Golf Club. Progress of the construction work, under the direction of Mr. Emmet, has been watched with keen interest by members of the club remaining at the hotel and in the camps. Mr. Emmet and Mr. Black state that the new course will be ready for use next season. Additional work, for which provision has been made at the hotel, includes the construction of three new tennis courts and a large garage with separate stalls.

Among the campers who are remaining late into September is Mr. William W. McAlpin, of New York, who will keep his Camp Wyndover, on Spittire Lake, open until the latter part of the month. Remaining with him are his daughters, Mrs. William F. Irwin of New York, Mrs. Andrew Shiland of Cedarhurst, L. I., Mr. Irwin and Mr. Shiland are also members of the party.

Mr. Harold Stokes and family will spend the week end of September at Pearl Island camp.

Among the campers remaining late on Osgood Lake are Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Osgood, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Wickwood, of Kansas City and Dr. and Mrs. Walter S. McDougall of Montreal.

Mr. Peter Wynne of New York recently arrived for a short sojourn at Paul Smiths.

Among other arrivals are: Mr. L. L. Mack, Mr. Arthur Barber, Mr. Edward Williams, E. A. Prince, Mrs. L. P. Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Withers, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Willis and Mr. Augustus J. Schmidt of Brooklyn and Mrs. D. M. Dempster and Miss Mary Wood Dempster of Philadelphia.
